Entered as second class matter July 18, 1906, at the Postoffice at Elba, Alabama, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

We are pleased to announce that we have secured the services of Mr. C. B. McNeel, of Miami, Florida, who will in the future minister to the needs of the composing room in the Elba office.

Ye old, was associated with Mr. McNeel for a number of years in Miami, he having charge of the composing room in a commercial shop there, and we the pleasure. That fact notwithstanding, we are still friends.

We weathered the storm of '26 together, and spent many pleasant (though sometimes disagreeable) days the guests of the Jockey Club, mingled with the crowds in attendance at canine contests, and even the Spanish-Jack-Mad.

Mr. McNeel's family will join him here shortly.

Citizens of Elba are to be congratulated upon the united stand they are taking in favor of the proposed highway from Elba to Luverne via Pin Hook and Bullock. At the meeting Saturday evening, September 22nd, was wholeheartedly in favor of securing this road, the only feasible road, most direct between these points.

If personal prejudices and difficulties can be forgotten or laid aside in furtherance of better things for the people, progressiveness, spirit, and greater things are in store.

True, possibly it's true, but the old saying "United we stand, divided we fall" loses some of its backed-up persuasiveness when brought into actual play.

It is a pleasure to see to pay our bills, but it kinder goes against the grain to pay a bill on a stationery printed at Ft. Wayne, Indiana. Trade at home is our slogan—Luverne Journal.

ADVICE TO TEACHERS

Gilbert Leach gets off this one: "A lady brought her little boy to school on opening day. The teacher, to the teacher, 'Little Benny is delicate. If he gets little bad just win the boy next to him.' That will frighten him and make him be have."—Times-Union. This makes us think of one teacher in a Florida school wrote a note to a boy's mother as to his personal cleanliness, requesting her to see that he was more neat in his future. The mother answered: "My boy ain't no more clean than him—learn him."—Monticello News.

LETTER FROM JAX TELLS OF STORM

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Parker, who live near Elba, received the following letter from their daughter in Jacksonville:

Thursday at 12 o'clock.

Dear Mother:

Well I can say that I've seen some wind. Seen trees sailing around and brick bats sailing by like rain.

The storm hit here very little though at the worst. They say down state that everything is terrible.

There is no news that I can get here only that somebody comes up from the storm-stricken area. I never shot any gas, lights or water for a long time and did not have any lights at all last night. I have not heard from Tarver, but I guess that he is all right. I am going to find out how he is just as soon as I can get over to that side of town.

The street cars are not running and you can't go over there on a car for the water and the street cars are not running.

I tried to call Tarver, but the telephone lines were out of commission. I tried to send you a telegram, but could not and I then tried to call you by long distance, but could not do that. I know that you are worried about us, but I can't find out anything about Tarver until I can get over there soon. Generators, transformers, lighting arresters, circuit breakers, oil switches, miles of power lines, scores of workers—keepers of the light—serve and night for the service must not fail.

All of this—and more—is Back of the Button in Alabama. Think of it the next time you use our service.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on

MASS MEETING SATURDAY

WHILEAS, this route if located directly and according to the law will enable the State of Alabama to secure federal aid and later make the road a paved road from Montgomery to the Dothan, by way of Laverne, Brantley, New Brockton, Enterprise, thereby furnishing a direct and shorter state and federal paved road between Dothan and Montgomery; and,

WHEREAS, a connection from Brantley to Dothan's Cross Roads will not be a county seat highway by the most direct route as required by law, and will destroy all hopes of the Dothan making said road a federal aid road—

Therefore, Be It Resolved as follows:

1. That we memorialize, beseech and recommend to the Highway Commission that said route be located and built by the most direct route, namely, from Elba by Beaver Dam Church and the Hook near Bullock and river, by way of the upper route to Brantley, Alabama; that such location will give to the people of Coffee county and Elba a county seat road directly and feasibly connected with Laverne, the county seat of Crenshaw county, and will give reconstruction to the largest number of Coffee county citizens along said route.

2. That we hereby endorse the efforts of the Court of County Commissioners of Coffee county and the people of Brantley who are urging the location and building of said county seat road by way of Dothan's Cross Roads, and we hereby advise our cooperation in securing the direct route and direct connection between Elba and Brantley.

3. That we most respectfully petition, urge, and recommend to the State Highway Commissioners, Hon. Woodley Finch, Henry Law and John S. Turner, the immediate location and building of the said state highway between Elba and Brantley.

ALABAMA COTTON IS BEING STUDIED

AUBURN, Ala., Sept. 26.—At the end of this season more will be known about the quality of cotton produced in Alabama. A comprehensive study of it is being made by the Experiment Station of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute in cooperation with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to J. D. Pope, Auburn, who is in charge of the study.

This study was started in 1922 when the Experiment Station collected samples from 2000 bales. It was found that 99 per cent. of this cotton was 7.5 of an inch in length. The study was made with the cooperation of cotton buyers, ginners, warehousemen, and merchants. During 1927-28 some 3000 bales were sampled and it was found that 85 per cent had a staple of 7.5 inch. Fourteen per cent fell below this length.

Through a cooperative movement this year a much larger number of samples is being collected and a fairer sample picture of cotton qualities in the various areas of the state will be determined in this way, according to Mr. Pope.

This study of the Alabama Cotton crop should answer the question as to quality and how it compares with cotton produced in other states. In other states a study in Georgia last year revealed that with 20,000 bales much more than 90 per cent of cotton with staple 7.5 to 8 of an inch the state produced only 179,000 bales of this length.

"IN-LAWS REPUTED CAUSE OF TROUBLE"

Whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder. Such was the verdict rendered at a local court Monday afternoon, after a young couple had aired their domestic difficulties, assisted by two lawyers.

The whole sum and substance seemed to be the aged adage of "too many in-laws," but with the assistance of the two lawyers, various relatives, and the two persons most interested, things were straightened out, and a marital truce was established.

Complying with the judge's order the couple, with their blue-eyed baby of five months repaired to a vacant room in the courteous to return smiling, and seemingly at peace with the world. They were placed on probation and given the court's order to go and try it again.

The court, in conclusion, remarked that the matter now rested with God, the couple themselves, and the court.

A Proclamation

BY THE GOVERNOR

Whereas, at the regular session held at the State Capitol in 1927 the Legislature of Alabama ordered that an election by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama be held at the next regular election upon a certain proposed Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama, which proposed Amendment is hereinafter set out; and

Whereas, notice of such election together with the proposed Amendment, is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

Now, therefore, I, BIBB GRAVES, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 6th day of November, 1928, the same being the time for holding the next general election, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama for a vote by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama in the manner and form and at the place as required by law upon the following Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama, namely:

"The Board of Revenue of Jefferson County or other governing body of said county, in addition to the taxes it is now authorized and empowered to levy and collect, shall levy and collect annually a tax of not more than one cent upon the value of the property therein as fixed for State taxation, to be applied exclusively to the purchase, construction, equipment, repair, operation and maintenance of a charity hospital or hospitals for the care and treatment of indigent persons."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of the election upon the above set forth Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama be given by publishing the same once a week for eight successive weeks next prior to the 6th day of November, 1928, in each County of the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said County.

IN WITNESS whereof I have hereunto set my hand and have used the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed at the City of Montgomery on this 15th day of September, 1928.

BIBB GRAVES, Governor.
JNO. BRANDON, Secretary of State.

A message to the editor of this paper from GENERAL MOTORS

JUST about a year ago we published, in your advertising columns, a message in which we sought to give you and your readers an idea of what General Motors is and what it is trying to accomplish. At that time the public was purchasing our cars at the rate of about one in every three; and our Frigidaire automatic refrigerator and Delco-Light electric plants were leading in popular preference in their respective fields.

Since then each of our car divisions has introduced new, further improved models and public patronage has reached the point where almost one out of two automobiles purchased is a General Motors car. Frigidaire and Delco-Light products have showed comparable increases in sales.

The reason for this is two-fold. First, the public wants value for its automobile dollar and recognizes value when it is given. Second, General Motors is seeking so to conduct its operations as to deserve the goodwill of the public.

We are particularly impressed with the number of letters which have come to us from editors of small city newspapers during recent months. These editors, who are in a position to reflect local sentiment, speak of the goodwill which attaches to General Motors in their communities and express an obviously sincere appreciation of the character of General Motors' advertising in their publications.

For our advertising has been as much concerned with giving your readers facts of helpfulness to them in the purchase of automobiles as with the merits of our own products. Our messages have set forth the principles of trade-in transactions and used car allowances. They have dealt with time payments and the change in the public's attitude toward the used car. Other messages have told of the policies of General Motors and of how our resources are being employed to effect them.

That General Motors enjoys the goodwill of the people in the small cities and on the farms of America gives us an especial satisfaction and confidence in the future. It is in the country sections of the United States that half our population lives. It is there that the whole industry must look in increasing measure for maintenance of the production volume upon which high values and low prices depend. And it is there that General Motors is paying particular attention to its facilities for sales and service.

To our friends in your community we express our thanks.
